The Evening Post of Monday, the 27th, has the following paragraph:

"LOOK TO IT.—We observed, a greater part of the day resterday, crowds of persons looking at the high building on the corner of Fourth-st, and Broadway. There seemed to be a general expectation that it would fail. We saw no evidence of this ourselves, but if the building is a dangerous exe, let the authorities look to it in time."

NED BUNTLINE'S NEW BOOK.—
THE CONVICT; Or the CONSPIRATOR'S VICTIM, A Novel written in Prison by Ned Bantine. Price 56 certs.

TIM. A Novel written in Prison by Ned Bantline. Price to certs.

This novel is one of those rare conceptions which every now and then make their appearance to annaze and convulse the world. It abounds in all those sitring incidents, and bold vigorous parsages, which have so long been the distinguishing features of Mr. Judson's writings. Although not written in the shape, it requires but a glance at its pages to satisfy any intelligent mind that it is nothing more nor less than an Autohography of its illustrious author, and a record of one of the most remarkable conspiracies for the overthrow and destruction of its hero, that ever disgraced a people. It is a revelation of the wrongs and sufferings which every pure bearted patriot and reformer must expect to encounter in this efforts to ameliorate the condition of the struggling masses, and lead them on to a nobler destiny than abat in which he finds them. And, taking a single leaf from his own extraordinarily adventurous history, Mr. Judson presents in This Convict a pacture, bold in its outlines and graphically stirring in its narrative and details of persecution and softering, which stands without a tival even in this age of masterly painting, either with the ponch or the pen. Every one is familiar with the fact of Mr. Judson's sentence to, and incarceration at the Penitentistry; but few even of his most inflimate riends, are aware how he came to be transformed from the character of a free citizents to that of a rentenced felon—a chanket convict. The details of that conspiracy, the character of the network by which he was gradually drawn in and ensaged, the treachery with which he was on all sides beset—extending even to the transformed from the character of a free citizents to that of a rentenced felon—a chanket on the remarket of his friends, as well as to the very partner of his heart.

ROW.

Not the Bloody row of Saturday,
When Maxwell's pets for want of game
Like blacklegs "in a fix."
Tried upon themselves the same,
With pistols, tongs and silcks.
"Twas mixed up well, find that instanter.
"Paris cum paribus congreganter!",
The question now is among the Thisties.
Were they not Hugh Maxwell's Pistols!
And if all things were right and fair
Why the de" were they there!
NO,
It is the futile attempt to get up the row of Thursday, for the ignothe purpose of destroying a poor cripple.
When "sticking out a feet" I saw the trick they went at,

When "sticking out a feet? I saw the trick they went at, And just, exclaimed "Quem valt perdere dementat."

It is not of that, but of this I treat in this CARD.

Fist justifie, rual colum.

Whereas it is currently reported (as I am credibly infirmed) around the Custom-House, its hundred public stores and other dependencies, that I was "sicked out" by His Honor (!) Hugh Maxwell, on Thursday last, and that I sm crazy, I need only asy that the said Hugh's care of his health forbids the idea of any such thing. What I kick me out "seeing that I am yet a cripple from having danced stendance too freely on a miserable foreign unnaturalized relative of his family, who palmed himself off at 12 Brond-st. for a "Mexican Volunteer," Ac until he obtained through my excessive labor during the most sultry season of the last cholers, and some of His Honor's (!) minor performances on a "decidedly vulgut," but too well known instrument, "a very easy place" at $300 per annum, while others were (very properly) told that none but American citizens are eligible:

Is not the idea preposterous!

This transaction, which I might have forgotten had not his Honor (!) himself been graciously pleased to remind me of it, may not be as intensely black as it first seems, for his Honor, (!) being yet as essantially Scotch (although he is now the most worshipful Collector) as the very day he was imported, may have perceived, or thought he did, in the sawny mien of his precious "protegé," sufficient claim to an easy and profitule place, American sentiments then, and subsequent proof since, to the contrary not withstanding. Only think! gracious reader! I had, among other signatures quite as respectable, since to a recommendation for "any julacs within his gift," one which could not be obtained for his (Maxwell's) "Illustrious predecessor," Gen. Samuel Swartwout; no, not even at the earnest solicitation of Samuel Alley, Esq. who came to my office, 44, now 56 Wall-st. for that purpose, and there and then saw and demanded it of James McBride. Esq.

"O, thou art more base than words can give thee out!"

are to society precisely was agriculture.

His son, it's true, followed me with the instrument upon which the father plays so exquisitely to the tune of some $55,000 a year, for self, sons, and attachés! I dread it!!

But he had, letter read the fable of the Jackass, the Lion, and the Cota substituting the notes of the gut for the crowing of the Cock.

Not Hugh Fitz-Hugh, nor their clan, too,
Per force or "spae dixit,"

Can prevent, good people, my duty to you.

At Pavara Salz.—Bohn's Labraries, consisting of the standard, actentific, antiquariso, classical, librarie ed and (new) cheap series. These highly popular and valuable publications are offered to the trade in quantities as well as to individuals in sets, or single copies, as may be desired. By the extensive range of subjects embraced in the several series, they are well adapted either to the ibraries of public institutions or the shelves of private collectors. The enterprising publisher, Mr. Henry G. Bohn, of London, is rapidly adding new issues, and from the character of those heretofore brought out, it may be readily presumed what the subsequent ones will be.

The latest issues received are Taylor's Holy Living and Dying and Lamartine's Genevieve—the former of the Standard Library and the latter of Bohn's new series; Plato, vol. 3; Cicero's Officis and Kitw's Scripture Lands.
